Will be presented the report

“THE CONCEPTION OF HUMANSUITABILITY ECONOMICS: VECTOR OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT OF RUSSIA UNTIL 2060”

In the context of a structural change in the world order and the distribution of subjectivity that is currently underway, the Russian Federation has the opportunity to significantly increase its geo-economic and socio-economic status, reaching the status of one of the leaders of the new structure of the world economy. This requires new conceptual approaches to building the strategic development of our country. Our concept of Russia's development is based on the principles of sustainable development, innovation and unlocking the potential of human as the main creator and consumer of the economic system.

The presentation will include:

- a) long-term forecast for the development of the global and Russian economy;
- b) the main criteria of humansuitability and measurable indicators of their achievement;
- c) basic parameters of Russia's strategy towards humansuitability;
- d) proposals for specific areas of transformation of the socio-economic model of our country.

The presentation will take place on February 13 at 14:00 (according to Saratov time) at the address: Saratov, St. Sacco and Vanzetti 54/60.

We invite the representatives of scientific organizations, business and politics to take part in the seminar.
